
How do I download JACLPlus for Joomla! 1.5?

Posted by denny - 2008/02/16 03:47

Hi

I paid to be a Chartered Member but can't figure out how to download the software?

Please help.

Thanks!

Maybe your payment didn't get registered at byostech. Perhaps if you send them a paypal transaction number...

i can go to the download site

http://www.byostech.com/component/option,com_docman/task,doc_details/gid,191/Itemid,11/but the file is not a link as it should be?

I never could get JACLPlus working with Joomla 1.5 stable, anyway. Text appeared all garbled in the admin sections.

lol 3xXL

it really looks like chartered membership is nothing but a joke ! they really should drop this nonsense.

a program under GPL licence is supposed to be free right ?

JACLPlus for Joomla 1.5 is under GPL licence right ?

It seemed like this was a really good ACL system if you read what it does... To get hold of it is a pain, chartered members is crap and WHY SHOULD I PAY FOR SOMETHING MOST PEOPLE CAN'T GET WORKING! Sounds to me like somebody wants to make money without responsibilities. That is why they are not going commercial... THE WAY IT IS NORMALLY DONE. First time I see you have to pay for gpl licensed items.

Can't anyone just upload this component to a free hosting-server or anything? All these bad comments from alot of people make me want to 'test' it first, before I'll THINK of buying it :blink:

Byostech should be honest, this is a paid component.

I wasted my time registering for this nonsense.

Sigh,

Another apparent rip-off attempt for something that is suppose to be GNU/GPL licence (another poster hit it on the head I think when they said developers of this component trying to get as much $$ as they can before joomla 1.6 and ACL is built-in - making their product worthless).

This component doesn't have a very good reputation in the various discussion groups around the 'net' (I'm particularly wary of something that 'hacks' the various joomla files) and I would like to be able to at least give it a try first before risking my site.

Thanks but no thanks, will look elsewhere for a commercial product. Won't deal with BYOS tech as honesty is everything in business.

just paid for charter member... my profile says member for next 3 months....

- 1) can't download, says not authorized
- 2) can't access JACLPlus Pro KeyGen, goes to become member page please advise.

got it. thanks for the email reply.

solution... for the forum... after payment, logout of this website and then log back in. then the download and the keygen are available.

Is this the 1.5.6 VERSION link or is there a different link for that?

OK! Now at last I find the package to download under:

http://www.byostech.com/component/option,com_docman/task,doc_download/gid,191/Itemid,11/

And now a new problem occurred:

In the zip file there was a "Patch_Files_Package_Joomla!_1.5.0Stable_JACLPlusPro" which has to be installed before the JACL Component.

But I can not install the patch files because I can not unzip the folder.
A password is required an I do not know where I can find this password.

What to do?

I have exactly the same problem. If I click on the link in this thread I get 'not authorized' although the payment has been deducted.

Very annoying.

From what it says on here you are SUPPOSED to be able to download everything for free, but chartered members get installation support, etc, etc.

So.. F Im not paying for this crapola.

Correction: I have been contacted by the BYOS Tech team and have sorted out my initial issues. I will not make any further posts until I have had the chance to download the extension and evaluate the process and workability.

i thought im too stupid to find the download but actually there is no download even for a registered member.
is there no option to evaluate jaclpuls first before considering to buy it?
it's really a little bit weird. where is the option to buy it and how much is it?
thanks for every help.
