Blank Pages on entire site after Zend Install

Hi there, is there an loncube encoded JACL 1.5.3 install vs a Zend encoded one? Zend seems to kill all my php pages except phpinfo.php (that's the only one that works). I just get Blank pages. No errors are produced in Apache or PHP.

Anyone had this issue?

I have also noticed that the support on this forum is absolutely slow - infact very slow. Being chartered members (paid sub) I figured the response rate from admins and support staff would be quick.

Appreciate any assistance from you guys or the community.

jaclplus for joomla 1.5.3 is installed successfully but all contents are in encoded form.

Just thought I would that that I may be experiencing the exact same issue, too.
