
Access Levels not working at all

Posted by Chevy21 - 2008/08/04 02:06

Hello Folks,

New here and am having issues getting this to work.

First let me describe my situation. I am currently an Online Racing League owner and wanting to switch from the current CMS to Joomla. I am currently working on a test site and using Joomla! 1.0.15 Stable. I have installed the JACLPlus for this version and then I installed CB 1.0.1 and the patch JACLPlus patch for Community Builder, then I installed FireBoard 1.0.4 and the Patch for it.

After all the installs I created a User Level and Group via JACLPlus for Members only for certain areas of the forums. I created my basic forums for Public/Registered users to view and then I started creating League Members "ONLY" forums. Well I went into the forums and I could not see the Private areas which is good. I then created a dummy user account and when I log in using that dummy account I can see ALL forums including the Private Areas.

I have printed out the 23 page manual which I don't really like doing and compared what the manual said to what I did and everything seems to be up to par. I am not too worried about alot of the Private Area Sections other then the league server passwords and our Team Speak as we don't want the public to know this information. Plus I will have a League Admin Department that the League Admins will and usually discuss issues with certain drivers and LEague Related stuff that the regular League Members shouldn't have access to, and that bothers me and something we need.

I am really needing help with this and I would appreciate it if someone could shed some light on what may be happening.

Thanks much for your time and understanding.

Chevy21

=====

Re:Access Levels not working at all

Posted by Chevy21 - 2008/08/11 03:22

Can someone help with this? Seems this is what was referred to me and I Can't believe that there is not much support here.

=====