

---

making a custom backend access

Posted by chessman - 2008/08/22 00:43

---

Hi,

i would like to make a custom access for my authors with the groupname "Auteur".

But when i try it, i have to give the group the backend access (or they can't log) and in this case they can see all backend menu.

When i give the rights to add content they also can edit or remove content items and i do not want it.

Could you please help me to make these rights : can login in backend and can just Add new content (without editing his own content).

Thanks a lot for your help.

=====